MAY ADMIT JESUITS TO GERMAN SOIL.

LONG-DEBATED RESOLUTION ADVANCES A POINT.

Reichstag Passes It to a Third Reading by a Vote of 168 to 145—Great Stumbling Block May Be Disposed Of—Millionaire-Author Dead In Munich.

BERLIN, April 16—The bill permitting the return of the Jesuits to Germany, was passed to its third reading in the reichstag to-day by a vote of 168 to 145. It has been the bone of contention, next to the army bill, for the last two years.

MUNICH, April 16—Count Adolph Frederick von Schack, the author-millionaire, died at his home in this city.

BERLIN, April 16.—The authorities of Berlin are investigating a terrible crime which has been committed near the Grunewald colony, on the outskirts of this city. The body of a young and beautiful sister of mercy was found near the road leading to the Grunewald forest district, partly concealed by bushes, and a gaping wound in her throat showed how she had met her death. The murder had been committed, evidently, after the commission of an assault. The premises showed that the victim had made a struggle for honor and life. Beyond the footprints of a man, there was nothing to give a clew to the identity of the murderer.

A few hours after the murder of the sister of mercy a young peasant girl, who was passing near the Grunewald colony, was set upon by a man, who attempted to assault her and tried to cut her throat when she resisted. Luckily this was a powerful country girl and she succeeded in fighting off her assailant and in raising such an outcry that a number of people were soon attracted to the spot and joined in the search for the man who assaulted her. From the information gathered by the police they are of the opinion that the man who murdered the sister of mercy and the one who had assaulted the peasant girl are identical.

KELLY'S ARMY REACHES IOWA.

Industrials Well Received---Militia Meets Them at Council Bluffs.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, April 16.—Kelly's industrial army, 1,300 strong, crossed the Missouri river yesterday and is now encamped on Iowa soil. Its next objective point is Chicago. The army was met by 8,000 citizens and given a warm welcome because it was seen at a glance that it was composed mainly of intelligent men. The militia was there, too, but it found nothing to do. The 2,000 miles between here and San Francisco was covered in eleven days. The time of departure has not yet been fixed, owing to the declaration of the railroads that they would not carry the men, but Commander Kelly said he hoped to make arrangements with some road to-day. He thinks the officers of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy will come to an agreement with him. Two collections were taken up and nearly enough money contributed to pay for a train to Chicago. Over 150 new recruits were sworn in yesterday.

The army reached the confines of Omaha shortly after 6 o'clock. The train halted at a sidetrack just inside the city limits. Chief Seavey was there with two platoons of police. It had been the intention to disembark the army there in the woods and have breakfast. The authorities had provided 2,500 loaves of bread and 2,000 pounds of cooked beef, while a business firm had given 1,000 pies. All this provender was in two box cars which were attached to the Kelly train and then the procession moved on. Chief Seavey had asked Gen. Kelly to keep his men on the cars and they had been kept there. Two or three thousand people had gathered there and many crossed to Council Bluffs with the train.

After breakfast there began a reception which lasted well into the evening. Fully 50,000 people visited the camp and mingled with the soldiers. Kelly's wonderful organization was never better shown. The discipline of the army is as perfect as that of well-drilled regulars. Much of this is due to the personnel of the troops, who are mainly intelligent mechanics, with not a few professional men thrown in. During the afternoon a public meeting was held. Gen. Kelly and a number of local labor leaders made speeches. In his address Gen. Kelly said he could not understand why the militia had been called out. His intentions were peaceable and his army well-behaved. It was made up of law-abiding and self-supporting citizens of the United States and had no intention of making trouble for any one. When they get to Washington they will urge upon congress the necessity of making some sort of preparation for taking care of the unemployed.

Gov. Jackson's action in calling out the militia has been criticised by the citizens rather harshly. Gov. Jackson justifies his action by saying that he had received many telegrams asking for protection, and had finally concluded the troops would be absolutely necessary to preserve order.

Yesterday was spent in negotiations between the governor, the mayor of the city, the sheriff and railroad officers regarding the manner, time and route of the army's departure for the east. The men say they are going to Washington, and if they can not ride they will cross the state of Iowa on foot.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 16.—In view of the probable passage of Gen. Kelly's industrial army through Topeka the People's Party league of Shawnee county passed a resolution to give the recruits a suitable welcome and a substantial feast on their journey to Washington.

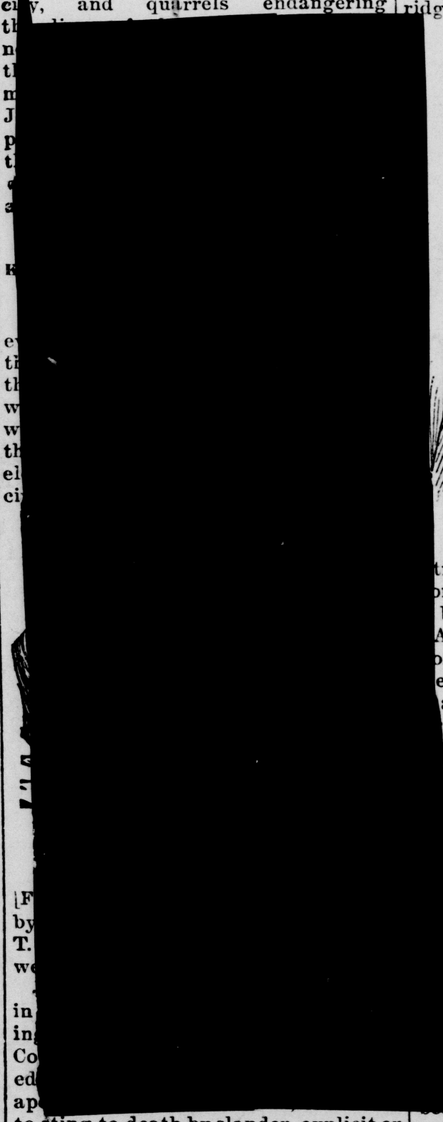

COXEY HAVING TROUBLE.

Fickle Commonwealers Depose the "Unknown" and Jesse Coxey.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 16.—The dignity of Coxey's army once attained appears to have departed forever. Internal dissensions have caused it. Gen. Coxey reached Cumberland at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning and at once hired a rig to drive him to Frostburg. Reaching that place at 4:30 o'clock he was closeted with Browne for nearly an hour. Apparently Browne told only his side of the story, for Coxey went at once to the opera house. Shortly and incisively Coxey told the men that he had never placed "Smith" in command of the army, and said the authority he had exercised was usurped. He said that Carl Browne was the only leader he wished recognized and that Jesse Coxey was the merest subordinate. He closed his speech by saying that it was his wish that Smith and his son should be drummed out of the army, and asked those who were in favor of that to hold up their hands. The men seemed to favor the idea and the two insubordinate members of the commonweal army were cast into outer darkness.

So-Called "Industrials" in Jail.

LEADVILLE, Colo., April 16.—For several days past men claiming to be stragglers from the California contingent of the industrial army have been passing through here. Twenty of these fellows occupied a cabin for the last two nights in the east end of the city, and quarrels endangering to sting to death by slander, explicit or implicit, the character of the judge who could not for a whole month look without deep expressions of nausea upon the Kentucky statesman, who with gifts like a god debased himself to the plane of the animal. He himself witnesses that no language can be coined adequate to express the sin. Let political defeat be coined from the conscience of Protestant, Catholic, and Hebrew."

Turning in Iron Hall Funds.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 16.—To-day is the last day for the Iron Hall receivers and branches in the different states to turn their funds to Receiver Failey of Indiana. All claims not accounted for to the receiver by to-night must go over until all legitimate previous claims have been paid in full. Ohio has paid in its funds, and New York's representatives are here now preparing to turn over its $200,000, so that all New York members may share with the rest of the country in the general dividend. Judge Winters will probably order a third dividend the last of this week.

Anti-Chinese Trouble in California.

WINTERS, Cal., April 16.—The white people of the town have notified the ranchers who have been employing Chinese and Japanese laborers that they must discharge them. This the ranchers refuse to do and trouble is anticipated.

Oklahoma Pilgrims Go in Style.

GUTHRIE, Ok., April 16.—The Oklahoma contingent of Coxey's army, 300 strong, has completed arrangements with the railroad company to carry it to Washington in box cars.

□ Crusoe's mother is played by a sweet, slim little thing named Dan Leno. When she is disturbed shortly after retiring by a cry of burglars, she plunges

GOV. HARVEY DEAD OUT IN KANSAS.

WELL KNOWN WESTERN MAN PASSES AWAY.

He Was Formerly United States Senator As Well As Governor—Death of Zebulon Vance Leaves a Marked Vacancy in Washington—North Carolina Suffers a Heavy Loss.

JUNCTION CITY, Kan., April 16—Ex-Governor and Senator James M. Harvey died at midnight. Governor Harvey filled an important part in Kansas politics, and represented the state for a time in the United States senate.

Senators Will Miss Mr. Vance.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—In the death of Zeb Vance the senate loses one of its most popular members. He was a southerner without bitterness and without intolerance. Senator Vance was very popular in North Carolina. His death will cause serious political complications. His place in the senate finance committee will probably be filled by the selection of Roger Q. Mills.

SPURNS STAGE LIFE.

Miss Pollard Ignores Managers and Their Offers.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—It is the general opinion that the career of Congressman Breckinridge as a public man has been effectually squelched by Miss Pollard's prosecution and the jury's verdict. One of the hardest obstacles that he will have to overcome grows out of his presentation of Miss Pollard to the widow of the late Gov. Blackburn. Kentuckians who discuss the matter invariably get back to this feature of the case and declare that no necessity existed for Mr. Breckinridge to take his mistress around and troduce her to every reputable oman with whom he might chance be acquainted.

As might have been expected from a oman of Miss Pollard's temperament e long strain of the trial culminated a nervous collapse, and she is suffing from nervous prostration. The ending physicians do not anticipate serious effects from her illness.

Miss Pollard's brother, J. D. Pollard, young man of 25 years of age. He d: "My sister has made no plans for future, and we can not tell yet at she intends to do. She asks me to that she never entertained any intion of going on the stage. Nothcould be farther from her thoughts ntentions. It is absurd. It is true telegrams on the subject have e to her to-day, but no attention be paid to them. All she asks is to for rest and quiet."

ardly had the verdict in the case n rendered when a meeting of prominent Washington women was called to take action regarding the case of Col. Breckinridge. Representatives of several female organizations met at Willard's hotel Saturday night and after an interesting conference adopted resolutions calling upon congress to consider the qualifications of Represencative Breckinridge for membership in that body.

"Tom" Johnson Attacks Hill.

NEW YORK, April 16.—"Tom" L. Johnson, millionaire manufacturer and representative in congress from Cleveland, Ohio, in a speech before the Single Tax club at Chickering hall made the following statement: "Senator Hill and I are in the same party. It is true a large portion of his speech was devoted to the income tax, to which I am opposed, just as I am opposed to the tariff, but all that had been said before by others. When he enunciated his protectionist ideas standing on the democratic platform he was out of the democratic party."

Gulf Road Pays Immense Profits.

DENVER, Colo., April 16.—The statement of Receiver Trumbull of the Gulf road for March to the United States Circuit court shows that this road, operated as an independent line, is becoming one of the best paying railway properties in the country. The receipts for the month were $305,490; disbursements, $177,265; leaving a cash balance on April 1 of $459,379.

Sovereign Predicts Insurrection.

BOSTON, Mass., April 16.—In an interview Grand Master Workman Sovereign says Coxey's movement is the foreboding of an insurrection. Thousands of toilers are watching it, ready to resent any abuse the army may receive from municipal, state or national officials. The army is to workingmen to-day what John Brown's party was to the slaves before the war.

DEPEW WAS JOKING AND WILL NOT RUN,

THE PRESIDENCY IS NOT IN HIS LINE.

When He Said He Was a Candidate He Was Simply Joking—Either Reed or McKinley Will Carry the Republican Standard—Reporters Keep Him Very Busy.

CHICAGO, April 16—Chauncey M. Depew declared again today that while he would like to be president he was not a candidate. He said either McKinley or Reed would be the nominee.

Depew Says He Is Not a Candidate.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 16.—Before leaving here Mr. Depew took occasion to say that he had been misunderstood as to his candidacy for the United States presidency. What he had said was in a humorous sense and in connection with other matters. Instead of being a presidential candidate he was quite the reverse.

NORTHERN STRIKE NOT ORDERED

Debs Says He Is Not to Blame---Miners In an Ugly Mood.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 16.—The fact has leaked out here that Eugene Debs, president of the American Railway union, not only did not order the strike of trainmen on the Great Northern road, but did not know that a strike was contemplated until it began. The strike was order by Hogan, one of the nine directors of the Railway union, who is now out on the line, probably in Montana. Until he receives a report and commendation to that effect from Hogan, President Debs will not order a strike on the eastern division of the road. It seems to be certain, however, that the strike will reach St. Paul within a day or two.

Nothing decisive was done at yesterday's meeting of the Railway union, but the sentiment unanimously favored standing by the men now out. Nearly all the employes of the Great Northern and other roads entering here have expressed determination to give the strikers their support, if indeed they do not eventually join them. The men have adopted an unusual plan of operations. It is to strike on one section of the Great Northern at a time and be governed in the matter of striking on other sections by the willingness or unwillingness of the Great Northern company to come to terms and grant the demands of the dissatisfied employes.

Advices from points on the road in North Dakota, Montana and Washington do not show a material change in the situation. The strikers, who seem to have the sympathy of the entire public in that section, are punctiliously orderly, but firmly refuse to allow any Great Northern trains to run, although they offer no opposition to the running of mail cars, which, however, the company declines to do unless it can send out whole trains.

DEVIL'S LAKE, N. D., April 16.—An attempt was made last night to get the fast express train for the Pacific coast, tied up here since Saturday, out, but the strikers refused to let anything go but the mail and baggage cars. The mayor called a special meeting of the city council, which decided not to interfere, as everything was conducted in orderly manner.

OPPOSITION TO THE STRIKE.

Railway Brotherhood Said to Be Against the American Union.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 16.—The strike on the Great Northern railway is gradually working east. It is developing a peculiar state of affairs. The strike is being more actively antagonized by the railroad employes brotherhoods than by the railroad company itself. A meeting yesterday afternoon of the local organization of the engineers took no official notice of the strike, but at the close of the meeting the secretary told a reporter that they were opposed to the strike and any engineer who countenances it or any way assisted the strikers would do it at his peril. Sargent of the Brotherhood of Fremen and Grand Chief Clark of the Order of Railway Conductors have both telegraphed to the president of the Great Northern railway that the strike is without their sanction. As far as can be learned the road is nearly tied up over about 1,500 miles of its extent, the number of men idle being much greater than the number of actual strikers. At a number of points along the line the citizens have openly espoused the cause of the strikers.

The correspondent at West Superior telegraphs that there is no sign of a strike at that point as yet. A dispatch received from Summit, Mont., on the Cascade division, says no one is working on that division so far as can be learned.

The strikers at all points are orderly and have been keeping the peace among themselves. It is understood that any of them who may become disorderly will be promptly locked up by the strikers themselves.

KALISPEL, Mont., April 16.—Everything is quiet on this division of the Great Northern. Not a wheel was turned since Friday noon. Men in every department have quietly quit work. There has not been the least excitement at this point and there is no disposition on the part of the men to do anything but refuse to work until a settlement is reached. They will not allow any damage done to any of the company's property," their instructions being to protect it

EXTENDING IN THE WEST.

Great Northern Tied Up Over Miles of Territory in Washington.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 16.—The Great Northern railroad strike has extended over the Cascade division and the coast lines and the whole system is tied up from Minot to Seattle and from Seattle to New Westminister. Hardly a wheel is turning or a telegraph wire ticking over 200 miles of line. The strike is complete in the west and all branches of the service are participating. The Canadian Pacific officials anticipating the extension of the strike have made arrangements with the receivers of the Lake Shore for their through cars, both passenger and freight, to run over the Lake Shore to and from this city.

Trouble Is Feared in Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 16.—Serious trouble is threatened with the free miners who went out Saturday, owing to the fact that efforts are making to replace them with negroes. It is stated here that the captains of all the military companies have been notified to be in readiness and that several thousand rounds of ammunition have been issued. Negroes are leaving Birmingham in considerable numbers to work at Blue Creek.

THE NEW CHINESE TREATY.

It Is Expected to Come Up To-Morrow Morning in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The senate will adjourn soon after the hour of meeting to-day out of respect for the memory of Senator Zeb Vance of North Carolina, whose death occurred suddenly Saturday night. With the exception of the Chinese treaty, which is to be considered Tuesday, and the routine morning business of each day, the remainder of the week promises nothing but a continuation of the tariff debate. There is little doubt the senate will accept the agreement reached between Senators Harris and Aldrich, providing that general debate on the tariff shall continue each day from 1 to 5 o'clock, and that it shall not be interrupted by roll calls or other business. The democratic side of the chamber will furnish a greater number of speeches this week than last. Senator Smith had given notice of a speech for to-day, but it will be postponed until Tuesday or later. Senator McLaurin will speak Wednesday. Later in the week Senators Turpie and Palmer and possibly other democratic senators will speak. On the republican side Senators Dolph, Morrill, Perkins, Higgins, Gallinger, Hoar, Cullom, Cameron, and Washburn will probably address the senate in the order named if time is permitted all of them, and if there should at any time be any lack of speakers Senator Quay will continue the speech begun by himself Saturday, the delivery of which, it is understood, will consume several days' time.

BRAZIL REBELLION ENDED.

De Mello and His Troops Surrender to Uruguay and Are Disarmed.

MONTEVIDEO, April 16.—Admiral de Mello and the 1,500 insurgent troops who disembarked on the frontier of Uruguay, after having been driven out of the state of Rio Grande do Sul by the troops of President Peixoto, have surrendered to the Uruguan authorities and the rebellion in Brazil may be said to have completely collapsed. The authorities of Uruguay have disarmed the Brazilian insurgents.

The state of siege at Rio de Janeiro has been extended to June 13, but it is believed that in view of the surrender of Admiral de Mello and the insurgent forces the Brazilian government will shortly be able to raise the state of siege.

FLOODED BY A CLOUDBURST.

Houses and Crops of Texas Settlers Washed Away—Loss of Life feared.

WACO, Texas, April 16.—Advices from Troy, thirty miles south, state that a terrible cloudburst has flooded Elm Creek bottom, washing away crops for miles and totally destroying them. Many houses have been washed away and much stock drowned. No loss of life has been reported so far, but it is considered certain that of the families living in that section some must have perished, as they have not been heard from. Railroad bridges and telegraph poles were washed away, cutting off all communication.

Jones On the March.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 16.—Division No. 3 of Coxey's army, under command of Christopher Columbus Jones, camped at Newport yesterday and remained there all night. The division numbers less than twenty men. They were well fed by the villagers and Jones made a speech.

OLD BLOODY BRIDLE WINS HIS CASE.

COLORADO COURTS DECIDE IN WAITE'S FAVOR.

Hold-Over Fire and Police Boards are Directed to Turn Over Their Offices to the Governor's Appointees and Do So Without Delay.

DENVER, April 16—The supreme court granted a writ of ouster in the fire and police board controversy today, ordering the old boards to turn over the offices to-morrow. This is a complete victory for Governor Waite, and vindicates the cause for which he called out the state troops.

NEWLIN AT THE MOB'S MERCY

Rioters Defy the Sheriff and Militia and Lynch a Prisoner.

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio, April 16.—Seymour Newlin, a negro, Saturday assaulted an aged woman Mrs. Knowles, living at Rushsylvania. He was captured yesterday morning, but when the sheriff arrived from Bellefontaine to take charge of the prisoner a mob which had collected refused to give him up. The sheriff summoned a posse, but still the mob would not yield. A call was then made upon the militia, and a company left Bellefontaine late in the afternoon for the scene of the trouble.

The crowd of infuriated citizens at Rushsylvania were apprised of the departure of the military and long before their arrival were armed and massed around the calaboose to receive them. When the company arrived at the building 100 voices warned the soldiers that the citizens were determined that blood would flow before the prisoner would be surrendered, and that any effort at force would be useless. They declared dynamite bombs were under the building, and that the prisoner would be blown to atoms if a gun was fixed.

Sheriff Sullivan then held a long parley with the leaders of the mob, and it was finally decided that if Sheriff Sullivan would order the militia to Bellefontaine the citizens would guard the prisoner until morning and give him a hearing in Rushsylvania, and that Sheriff Sullivan would make no further attempt to get the man until after the trial.

The militia arrived here at 8:30 p. m. The dynamite talk was supposed to be a bluff, but after the departure of the soldiers no less than six bombs were hauled from under the calaboose.

At 8:50 the mob made a raid on the calaboose. The building was overturned and the struggling negro quickly taken from it. A rope had been procured, a noose was put about the neck of the trembling wretch, and he was dragged to a cottonwood tree about one hundred yards distant. Little was said, and no opportunity was given to the prisoner to make a confession or statement. A dozen willing hands grasped the rope, and the negro was swung into the air. As his body rose above the mob the air was rent with shouts of the men and women who had assembled to witness the lynching. As soon as the work was finished the mob dispersed and quiet was restored.

LIVELY PRIMARIES.

Democrats of Sangamon County, Illinois Make a Hot Fight.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 16.—The democratic primaries held in Sangamon county Saturday were the most hotly contested in the history of the party for years. Congressman Springer received the instructions of this county for renomination without opposition and Ben F. Caldwell was renominated for state senator in the same way. Of the four candidates for representative Edward L. Merritt alone received a majority and is renominated, while the convention next Wednesday must decide between Dr. John A. Vincent, Thomas White, and B. F. Workman for the second nomination. They each lack fifteen or more delegates of a majority and are nearly evenly matched as to instructed delegates. The convention promises to be one of the most exciting ever known here.

Caldwell for President.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 16.—Grand Judge Samuel T. Scott of the Knights of Reciprocity says the organization, which has a membership of over 3,000,000 in the United States, is to work for the nomination of Judge Caldwell of the United States Circuit court for the Presidency of the United States by the next national republican convention. A meeting of the order has been called for May 15 to perfect plans of campaign.

Missouri Rising at Omaha, Neb.

OMAHA, Neb., April 16.—The April rise in the Missouri is believed to be at its height and indications are also that, as last year, the April rise will prove higher than that in June. Dynamite was used yesterday to dislodge immense masses of drift timbers and trees that had piled up against the temporary piers of the East Omaha bridge.

Loss in Battle at Rio Grande.

MONTEVIDEO, April 16.—It is reported to the commander of the British gunboat Beagle that the Brazilian insurgents lost in the attack on the City of Rio Grande do Sul 350 men killed or wounded. The government loss was 100.

THE GEM OF UPRIGHT PIANOS.

Shaw Company Devote All Their Time To This One Line.

When the Gazette looked for a piano it demanded the best upright in the market. The Shaw Company make nothing but uprights and turn out an instrument that is beyond criticism. It is far ahead of the uprights made by two or three famous houses that have won their reputation not by their upright pianos but by their concert grands. The two are entirely different in construction, and the fact that the Shaw Company have bent every energy to one line gives them an immense advantage. S. C. Burnham & Co. are sponsers for the high quality of the instrument which the Gazette offers. But even their word need not be taken without support. The prize piano is in their store and may be tested by all who are interested.

PLANS MADE FOR TO-NIGHT

HOMES OF THE CITY TO BE OPEN

Ample Provision Made for the Throngs of Grand Army Men.

Janesville is in a position to care for the Grand Army without any difficulty, but the arrangement committee are anxious to have as many as possible of the homes of the city thrown open for the reception of guests during Encampment. This is not to be in the way of free entertainment but as a means of supplementing the resources of the hotels. All who can entertain one or more comrades are asked to report.

Real or Imitation?

A thing of beauty is not a joy forever, nor even worth looking at, unless its creator is guaranteed, writes James Payne in the Illustrated London News; and a painting, on the other hand, may be ever so hideous and out of perspective, and yet be priceless if it can be proved to be by an "old master." The most delightful of English painters, Constable, has a "manner," it seems, that is easy to be imitated. Some years ago there were two most excellent pictures on view under his name—but not guaranteed—in a well-known auction-room. Nobody denied their attractions, but they had never been engraved, which aroused suspicion. They were protected by a wooden barrier, but on the very day before the sale, a Jew picture-dealer, more enterprising than polite, pushed a dirty thumb-nail into the canvas, and exclaimed: "S'help me Moses, if the paint ain't wet!"

THOROUGHGOOD FULL OF HOPE.

Many Offers of Assistance Have Been Made by Business Men.

Mayor Thoroughgood was surveying the wreck of the third floor of the box factory Sunday afternoon, when he remarked:

"I am well pleased with the fire department and do not see how the fire could have been handled better. But I tell you what makes me feel better than all, and makes me think that our loss is very light. That is, the number of prominent men, men who have come to me quietly with encouraging sympathy, and asking: 'Is there anything I can do for you. If you need money, call on me and you shall have it. The Howes came over early Friday morning and told me that we could have anything they had, and that a portion of their new factory was at our disposal if we needed it. Dr. Henry Palmer was here with his check book in hand, volunteering us aid if we wanted it. I tell you such men make a town lively, and I am proud of it, and feel highly honored that I am mayor of a city containing such good men. But I do not think we need any aid. Our loss is pretty well covered by insurance, except that on stock. We will be out some two thousand dollars, perhaps a little more on manufactured stock. We have not a foot of manufactured stock now on hand, and this morning I received an order for 50,000 feet. We must get our rough on at once and get to work. I think we will be running again in ten days."

ROBBER'S CONFESSION.

Years Afterward the Dying Bandit Told of His Crime.

"Talking about train robbers, happened to be aboard the second train ever held up by robbers east of the Mississippi," said Frank W. Hastings of Terre Haute. "There had been several trains held up and express messengers and passengers plundered in the far West just at the close of the war, but it was the work of guerrillas who had not settled down and renewed the avocations of peace. The Reno's had robbed a train at Seymour, Ind., but the episode at Long Pond, on the Vandalia railroad, about thirty miles west of Terre Haute, was most sensational. It is to it that I refer. Three men had gone to Indianapolis, and had steel breast plates and masks made which would have turned a minie ball. At Long Pond they uncoupled the express car from the train, jumped onto the engine and ordered the engineer to pull out. He hesitated and they shot him dead. The fireman jumped off.

"The robbers then ran the train two miles away to a point where they had a wagon and confederates waiting. There were five of them in the job. They called upon the messenger to open his car. He refused. They fired over fifty shots into his car, and he replied with a Winchester. The robbers then set fire to the car, but before the blaze had made much headway they were scared away by the advance of a posse of the passengers, headed by the conductor. Several people were arrested in the great man-hunt, participated in by 1,000 men, which followed, but were on trial acquitted. Rewards were offered aggregating $14,000. Years afterward a dying man named Shoemaker told how the job had been planned in Terre Haute, and how the robbers, when repulsed made a detour and got back to the train which they had held up and returned to Terre Haute unnoticed by the excited passengers."

GETTING EVEN WITH HIM.

A Disgruntled Constituent Who Had It in for the Congressman.

"They are not all alike, anyway," remarked a congressman to his clerk, laying a letter he had just read down on his desk.

"Who are not?" inquired the clerk for more definite information.

"People who want office. Here's a man living on the Pacific slope now who used to be a constituent of mine. I failed in securing him an office he wanted once and he swore he would get even with me, saying I hadn't tried hard enough, which was to some extent true, for I thought he had better stuff in him. Listen to what he writes," and the congressman read from the letter:

"I told you once I would get even with you for not getting me that office, and I will. You may think because I have gone West that I have forgotten how you treated me when I was a constituent of yours, but I have not. You refused to help me then and practically drove me out of your district, and I came here. I have made a ten-strike in business and have got more money to throw away than you can make in forty years in congress, and part of that I have set aside as a revenge fund. Forgotten you, have I? Well, not much. This amount I propose to spend in your campaign on your behalf, and I intend to do it every year, if necessary, until you get so sick and tired of going to congress that you will get down on your knees to your former constituent and beg him with tears in your eyes for the Lord's sake to let up. You, sir, have put me in a position to be able to do this thing, and you must be the one to suffer. If you had secured me that office this consideration of affairs would not have been possible, and there is no one to blame for it except yourself, and I am free to confess that I am not sorry things have turned out as they have."

A Numerous Court.

The court of the emperor of Russia, says one of the St. Petersburg papers, consists of one chief chamberlain, five chief court-masters, one chief gentleman-of-the-table, one chief hunting master, one chief court marshal, one chief carver, one chief stable master, thirty-five court masters, seventeen stable masters, six hunting masters, one director of the imperial theatres, two chief masters of ceremonies, eight assistant hunting masters, nine assistant masters of ceremonies, 173 chamberlains, 249 assistant chamberlains, twenty-four court physicians, twenty-three court priests, ten ladies in waiting, four ladies of the bedchamber, and 180 assistant ladies in waiting. It is well that the czar is one of the wealthiest men in the world, as the list is rather a long one to support.

Horses Like Perfumes.

There are some perfumes that are very grateful to horses, however little credit a horse may commonly receive for possessing delicacy of scent. Horse-trainers are aware of the fact, and make use of their knowledge in training stubborn and apparently intractible animals. Many trainers have favorite perfumes, the contents of which they keep a secret, and it is the possession of this means of appealing to the horse's æsthetic sense that enables so many of them to accomplish such wonderful results.

Ocular Demonstration.

An old woman, who had been in the infirmary with sore eyes, told a neighbor that the doctors took out her eyes and scraped them with lances. "Nonsense, woman," replied the other, "ye shouldn't believe all ye hear; the doctors would only be stuffing ye." "Oh, but ye know it's no use saying that, for I awakened up out of the chloroform and saw both of my eyes lying on the table."

I have been troubled with chronic catarrh for years. Ely's Cream Balm is the only remedy among the many that I have used that affords me relief—E. H. Williard, Druggist, Joliet, Illinois

My son has been afflicted with nasal catarrh since quite young. I was induced to try Ely's Cream Balm, and before he had used one bottle that disagreeable catarrhal smell had left him. He appears as well as any one. It is the best catarrh remedy in the market.—J. C. Olmstead, Arcola, Il.

A Standard Bearer.

In the crusade inaugurated nearly half a century ago against the professional ignorance of the old school of medicine, Hostetters' Stomach Bitters was a standard bearer. Its victories over disease, when the old time specifics proved abject failures, proved that the pseudo-philosophy which sanctioned the administration of violent remedies where the case required none, which laid down as unalterable rules blood letting, violen purgation, the use of emetics and the employment of corrosive and cumulative poisons in simple cases of lived, and malarial complaint, was in fact te worst of unphilosophy contrary alike to the laws of true medicinal science, of hygene and of common sense. Biliousness, constipation and chills and fever, as now treated by the Bitters, promptly yield where before they obstinately resisted old fashioned medication. So do dyspepsia, rheumatism and kidney complaint—all surely conquerable by this safe and really philosophic remedy.

Lifting the Veil.

The priestess of occultism shuddered.

"All," she whispered, "is uncertainty."

A low moan was wrung from her lips.

"Can you discern nothing clearly?" she demanded, in agony.

"Nothing."

Upon the eve of her marriage she had sought to know what fate was to be hers.

"Look again!" she cried. "Something must be predestined."

The clairvoyant smiled.

"Yes," she answered, "you are dead sure of getting a pickle dish."

Wooden Gowns.

Quite the newest thing in the way of dress fabric will not be woven from the covering of any animal or the product of the silk worm, but from an apparently unpromising substance—wood. Wooden gowns do not sound attractive, but the wood fiber when spun or otherwise prepared is a beautifully soft and lovely stuff, and scarcely distinguishable from fine silk or the downy contents of the cotton pod.

Poor Man.

Police Justice—What! You actually beat the wife of your bosom for saying her prayers. Such utter depravity I never heard of before.

Prisoner—I guess, jedge, you never had a woman flop down on her knees at midnight and pray at you for two hours at a stretch, callin' you all the names she could lay her tongue to, or you wouldn't be so hard on a feller

HEIRLOOMS OF AN EARLDOM.

Given by a Dissipated Young Nobleman to a Burlesque Dancer.

An extraordinary story is going the round of clubdom of London. The chief actors are an earl, a burlesque dancer, a burlesque actress and a music hall celebrity, who is also the husband of one of the ladies above mentioned. A short time ago the danseuse was in temporary possession of a quantity of jewelry, among which it is alleged were family heirlooms, the property of the noble earl. The jewelry, it is said, was lent by the danseuse to a burlesque actress. During the time the latter had possession of the valuables the music hall celebrity was in a position of financial embarrassment. In these conditions, it is said, he prevailed upon his wife to hand the treasure to another party, as security for the advance of a large sum of money, the music hall man urging that he was in daily expectation of assistance from a scion of a well-known city manufacturing house. This support was not forthcoming. In the meantime his lordship, who has been absent from London, wrote to the danseuse, advising her of his contemplated return to the metropolis. The announcement created some consternation among the parties concerned, and the danseuse requested the return of the jewels. This the actress was unable to do. Most urgent appeals were made to the money lender, but that gentleman was obdurate and the jewels remained in pledge. The earl on his return to town became acquainted with the state of affairs and his displeasure was expressed in no measured terms. Finding his efforts to recover the valuables futile he has, it is said, had recourse to process of law, but there is a strong probability that the matter may be compromised without undue publicity.

TOPS.

"Jersey Lilies" That Are Hummers and Lignum Vitæ Tip-Toppers.

Most of the tops that boys spin are made in Pennsylvania. In one Pennsylvania town there is a factory that employs more than 200 hands making tops. Tops are made of boxwood, maple and lignum vitæ. Taking all kinds of tops together, a larger number of maple are sold than either of the other woods; boxwood comes next, and next lignum vitæ; but in the aggregate amount of the sales of each kind the boxwood tops are first, the maple next and the lignum vitæ last. Not many lignum vitæ tops are sold, on account of their cost. The lignum vitæ tops are sold more in the South and in the Northwest than in other parts of the country. It may be of interest to note that most of the iron pegs used in peg tops are cast in Newark, N. J.

A top that is made especially for New York city is known as the Jersey Lily; it has now been in use three years. The peculiarity of the Jersey Lily is that it has no head; it is supposed to be possible to get a better hold of such a top and to be easier to hit such a top in a ring. The sale of the Jersey Lily is increasing. One wholesale dealer sells 1,000 gross of Jersey Lilies in a year. Counting the sales of other dealers it is probable that more than 2,000 gross of tops of this style are sold annually.

The sale of the Jersey Lily is still practically confined to New York city, but substantially all the other peg tops manufactured are now made as they have been for the past three or four years with removable heads, the head fitting into a little socket turned in the tap to receive it. It costs a little more to make a top in this way, but the cost to the consumer remains unchanged.

A Remote Letter Box.

Cape Horn is a great mass of rock rising abruptly from the sea and forming a small island. Upon one of the ledges of this rock stands a covered barrel, the international letter box of a region more than 500 miles from anything that resembles civilization. It is the custom of captains passing round the Horn to send a boat ashore at this point if possible, take whatever mail is going in the direction of the vessel, and drop in whatever it is desired shall go in the other direction.

His Resort.

"Are you the celebrated Mme. Bombaston?" he asked, after he had climbed four flights of stairs and was admitted into a mysterious apartment.

"Yes," replied the bizarre-looking personage who had received him

"The great clairvoyant?"

"Yes."

"And you foretell the future?"

"Yes."

"And read the mind?"

"Yes."

"And unfold the past?"

"Yes, yes."

"Then," said the visitor, as he took a roll of bills from his pocket eagerly, "tell me what it was my wife asked me to bring home for her to-night!"—Harper's Bazar.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

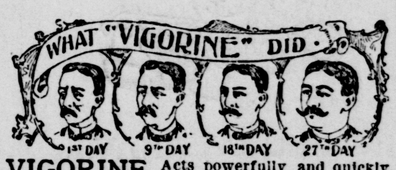

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

MORE MORRILLS NEEDED.

It was a well-merited tribute which the friends of Justin S. Morrill paid him in celebrating the completion of the veteran statesman's eighty-fourth year. It has seldom fallen to the lot of a prominent American leader and legislator to be found in the harness of public duty at such an advanced age. The celebration occurred at a time to remind the republic vividly of the debt which it owes to Senator Morrill. The Morrill tariff, passed just on the eve of the civil war, was one of the wisest and best measures that ever passed into the statutes of the nation. To the enactment of that law the country is not only indebted for many of the industries which until the advent of Clevelandism made the American people the most prosperous on earth, but it was greatly instrumental in saving the union from disruption. While the Morrill tariff itself is no longer in operation, the principle upon which it was founded has continued to be the groundwork of the industrial policy of the country, and it will continue to be such long after Grover Cleveland has passed out of sight.

DRIFTING TO DEFEAT.

"The one point upon which all critics agree," mournfully observes one of our democratic neighbors, "is that the democratic party is drifting to certain defeat." This candid admission is the basis of a solemn warning to the leaders that they must soon show a better order of statesmanship or all chance of success either this year or two years hence will be miserably lost. The party is really in a condition of chaos, so far as relates to all important questions and purposes.

It is impossible to see how a party thus divided against itself can get itself together in any practical and effective sense. The causes of conflict are not accidental or superficial; they pertain to matters of fundamental importance for the most part. There are various factions that are even more antagonistic to each other than they are to the republicans and these inharmonious elements can hardly be united.

The democratic majority in the house has adopted a rule imposing a fine of $10 upon a member who fails to respond when his name is called. Another step will bring the Reed rule for counting a quorum, and then business can be transacted in an orderly and effective manner.

Bland gives notice that a free-coinage bill will be introduced as soon as his committee can be got together to consider the matter; and he feels confident that it will be passed, thus giving Cleveland a chance to assume the responsibility of defeating it with a veto.

The treasury officials say that no more bonds will be issued because it is extremely doubtful if they could be sold on the same terms as the present issues. This signifies that capitalists are not disposed to lend money on the endorsement of the present administration.

Hill is receiving more congratulations upon his recent speech than he has ever before received in such a relation; and it is only fair to say that they are well deserved in the sense that the speech was the best one he ever made.

Eloquent Chicago Man Here.

Congregationalists heard two eloquent sermons Sunday, Rev. David Beaton, of Lincoln Park church, Chicago, exchanging with Rev. Mr. Wilder. Dr. Beaton was a college friend of Thomas Jeffris and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Jeffris.

WRONGED WIFE USED FISTS

Police Kept Busy Saturday Night Settling Family Jars

With her teeth, fists and feet a Second ward woman upheld her rights Saturday night. Her husband has been too attentive to another—in fact lost his place on this account. He made an appointment to meet his fair inamorata Saturday night on Franklin street but his wife was there ahead of him. She met the fair charmer in no peaceful way and the air was full of false hair and dress goods in a moment. It took two policemen to restore order and a divorce will probably follow.

Chief Acheson and Officer Hogan were called up on Glen street, late Saturday night to quell a family row. The head of the house had pulled the front door off and wrecked the hen house before the police arrived.

ANSWERED DEATH'S SUMMONS

Funeral of E. A. Douglas.

The funeral of E. A. Douglas Sunday afternoon was attended by a large concourse of people from the towns of Plymouth and Center. Many old settlers of the neighborhood were also present, Mr. Douglass being one of the pioneers of the town, he settling there in 1846. The services were under the direction of the Footville lodge of Masons, Burr Sprague being Master and C. C. Stone marshal. Rev. Millington Wells preached the sermon and the song service was rendered by a quartette—Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Fred Bemis, Alex Wiggins and Frank Owens. The remains were buried in the Grove cemetery, the pall bearers being Henry Austin, James Cleland, P. Patterson, W. W. Roderick.

Reuben Arnold Smith.

Reuben A. Smith, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Smith of the Badger State house, died Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock of bowel complaint and fever. The little boy had been sick about three weeks. Funeral will be held from the house, corner Wall and Academy streets, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and at 2:30 from St. Paul's German Lutheran church, Rev. John Koerner conducting the services.

The Badger State House and Smith's pharmacy will in consequence be closed.

Funeral of Fred Luedke.

The remains of Fred Luedke were buried in Oak Hill this afternoon, funeral services being held at St. Paul's church, conducted by Rev. John Koerner, at 2 o'clock. There was a large attendance of friends of the family, many of whom accompanied the funeral party to the grave.

Lowell Heard From

E. W. Lowell was in the city today and in conversation he stated "that he would be through at Freeport in about two weeks, and would then open the bargain business in hardware here." Lowell is surely a hustler. He bought an immense stock of hardware at Freeport about four weeks ago, and will have it all sold out in two weeks more—about $10,000 worth of hardware, stoves and tinware in six weeks. How's that? But then it is the old story over again. If a person buys a stock and tells the people about it, they will buy, but if the stock is bought, put in a storeroom, and the people expected to hunt it up, it will rot, as some stocks are now doing in Janesville. The secret of Mr. Lowell's success has been "quick sales and small profits," thus turning his stock over in a short time. Look out for him May 1. The Lowell Hardware Co. will do the bulk of the hardware business in Janesville this summer.

OBJECTS TO THE KENT SITE.

Pest House Question Rouses a Correspondent To Protest.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—This article is addressed to those who are most concerned, especially the residents of North Bluff street. In The Gazette of April 11 there appeared an article stating that Mr. Baines, in choosing a site for a pest house, had a main chance in view, as he kindly suggests that the city buy a lot of three acres with house and barn which he facetiously describes as lying north of "Goose Island," known as the A. C. Kent property—that is, formerly—but more recently as the Baines & Heddles property. This property lies on a much-traveled road; in fact, the only road leading directly into the city from Edgerton and Indian Ford, and also to the county asylums; it is also in a thickly settled neighborhood and where the house stands within three rods and on a level with the occupied houses, and where it is impossible to get patients into the place without passing within a rod and a half of some of the houses of old residents and tax payers. Fellow citizens, what do you think about it? Do you think he has the interest of the public at stake or is he trying to get a good price for the desirable location just north of "Goose island?" We are peaceable, law abiding citizens but to tolerate a small pox den in our midst is asking too much. If it is north so are the county buildings but this would be right in the city. Hoping the honorable mayor may be more consistent we sign ourselves

SHERIFF ARRESTS FATHER AND SON.

FRANK AND DAVID DUDLEY TAKEN TO IOWA.

Burglary of a Clothing Store is the Charge Made Against Them—No Stolen Property Found On the Premises and Both Men Claim to Be Innocent.

Back to Iowa Frank Dudley and his son David Dudley go with Sheriff W. A. Fairbanks this afternoon.

Frank Dudley was arrested on his farm near this city by Sheriff Bear and Chief Acheson while the boy was found on the street by Officer Hogan about noon.

Sheriff Fairbanks says he has evidence connecting them with the burglary of L. L. Long's clothing store, in Charles City, Iowa, March 31. Five other men are mixed up in the deal Four were arrested in Elma, Iowa with stolen goods in their possession.

"Three of the men we caught in Elma were expert thieves and very smooth," said Fairbanks. "One of them acted as attorney on the examination and managed the case with much skill. The evidence against them, however, was convincing. The Dudleys spend a good deal of their time on a farm they own near Charles City. The principal evidence we have against them is the story the boy told to his friends and the information which we got when we arrested the Elma crowd and examined the stolen property."

The Dudley place was searched for stolen property by Sheriff Bear and Chief Acheson today but none was found.

Sheriff Fairbanks came from Iowa without waiting for requisition papers but the Dudleys agreed to go back with him without formalities. Another man is still to be found. He was here two weeks ago but has disappeared.

Both of the Dudleys proclaimed their innocence when seen at the jail.

M. D. Wells & Co.

Brown Bros. & Lincoln have sold so many shoes during their recent great shoe sale, which is yet in progress, that M. D. Wells & Co., the wholesale boot and shoe dealers, Chicago, became alarmed that perhaps Brown Bros. & Lincoln did not have enough shoes on hand, so they sent Messrs. S. N. Williamson, "An Unknown," Clint Wilcox, and E. A. Young, four of their expert salesmen to see them. These gentlemen were all there this morning laboring with "Abe" Lincoln and trying to persuade him to cease buying bankrupt stocks.

BUSINESS MEN MEET TONIGHT.

Special Session to Discuss Wind Mills and Water Works' Rates.

The special meeting of the Business Men's association called for this evening, will be interesting. It is understood that the rules of the water company are to be bombarded with hot shot by a number of water consumers who feel that they have been imposed upon. Whether this discussion will lead to litigation depends altogether upon the action of this meeting. Other important matters will be discussed, one being the proposition of a wind mill manufacture to locate his plant in Janesville.

GEN. SLOCUM'S RELATIVES HERE.

Mrs. Roland West His Sister, and Dr. Slocum His Brother.

That General Slocum, who died in Brooklyn Saturday night, had Janesville relatives is not generally known. Mrs. Roland West, who lived here for a number of years was the general's sister, while his brother was a physician practicing in Edgerton during 1861-62. Roland West was a brother-in-law of Sheriff Lawton and was under sheriff. He and his wife lived at the jail during Sheriff Lawton's term.

RED WHITE AND BLUE ON HOUSES.

Janesville Should Be Decorated in Honor of the Grand Army.

From one end to the other the city should be red, white and blue during Grand Army week. Merchants should make provision at once for getting bunting, as the supply may be exhausted. Wherever the state encampment of G. A. R. has been held the stores and private residences in all parts of town have been appropriately trimmed and Janesville should be no exception.

G.A.R. NOTICE

We take this opportunity of informing our subscribers that the new Commissioner of Pensions has been appointed. He is an old soldier, and we believe that soldiers and their heirs will receive justice at his hands. We do not anticipate that there will be any radical changes in the administration of pension affairs under the new regime.

We would advise, however, that U. S. soldiers, sailors, and their heirs, take steps to make application at once, if they have not already done so, in order to secure the benefit of the early filing of their claims in case there should be any future pension legislation. Such legislation is seldom retroactive. Therefore it is of great importance that applications be filed in the department at the earliest possible date.

If U. S. soldiers, or their widows, children, or parents desire information in regard to pension matters, they should write to the Press Claims Company at Washington, D. C., and they will prepare and send the necessary application, if they find them entitled under the numerous laws enacted for their benefit. Address:

HIS KIND OF GOSPEL GOOD EVERY DAY.

DR. TALMAGE TALKS ABOUT HOME RELIGION.

Love Is the Corner-Stone of the Family Structure—The Christian Home Is Likened to a Kingdom of Joy and Gladness.

BROOKLYN, April 15.—In the great audience which assembled in the Brooklyn tabernacle this forenoon, were many strangers. Rev. Dr. Talmage chose for the subject of his sermon, "Home Religion," taking his text from Luke viii : 39: "Return to thine own house, and show how great things God hath done unto thee."

After a fierce and shipwrecking night, Christ and his disciples are climbing up the slaty shelving of the beach. How pleasant it is to stand on solid ground after having been tossed so long on the billows! While the disciples are congratulating each other on their marine escape, out from a dark, deep cavern on the Gadarene hills there is something swiftly and terribly advancing. Is it an apparition? Is it a man? Is it a wild beast? It is a maniac who has broken away from his keepers, perhaps a few rags on his person, and fragments of stout shackles which he has wrenched off in terrific paroxysm. With wild yell and bleeding wounds of his own laceration, he flies down the hill.

Back to the boats, ye fishermen, and put out to sea, and escape assassination. But Christ stands his ground; so do the disciples; and as this flying fury, with gnashing teeth and uplifted fists, dashes at Christ, Christ says, "Hands off! Down at my feet, thou poor sufferer," and the demoniac drops harmless, exhausted, worshipful. "Away, ye devils!" commanded Christ, and the 2,000 fiends which had been tormenting the poor man are transferred to the 2,000 swine which go to sea with their accursed cargo.

The restored demoniac sits down at Christ's feet and wants to stay there. Christ says to him practically, "Do not stop; you have a mission to execute; wash off the filth and the wounds in the sea; smooth your disheveled locks; put on decent apparel and go straight to your desolated home, and tell your wife and children that you will no more affright them, and no more do them harm; that you are restored to reason, and that I, the Omnipotent Son of God, am entitled hereafter to the worship of your entire household. Return to thine own house, and show how great things God hath done unto thee."

Yes, the house, the home is the first place where our religious gratitude ought to be demonstrated. In the outside world we may seem to have religion when we have it not; but the home tests whether our religion is genuine or a sham. What makes a happy home?

Well, one would say a house with great wide halls, and antlered deer-heads, and parlors with sculpture and bric-a-brac, and dining hall with easy chair and plenty of light and engravings of game on the wall, and sleeping apartments commodious and adorned. No. In such a place as that, gigantic wretchedness has sometimes dwelt, while some of you look back to your father's house, where they read their Bible by the light of a tallow candle. There were no carpets on the floor save those made from the rags which your mother cut night by night, you helping wind them into a ball, and then sent to the weaver who brought them to shape under his slow shuttle. Not a luxury in all the house. But you can not think of it this morning without tearful and grateful emotion. You and I have found out that it is not rich tapestry, or gorgeous architecture, or rare art that makes a happy home.

The six wise men of Greece gave prescriptions for a happy home. Solon says a happy home is a place where a man's estate was gotten without injustice, kept without disquietude, and spent without repentance. Chilo says that a happy home is the place where a man rules as a monarch of a kingdom. Bias says that a happy home is a place where a man does voluntarily what by law he is compelled to do abroad. But you and I, under a grander light, give a better prescription: a happy home is a place where the kindness of the Gospel of the Son of God has full swing.

While I speak this morning there is knocking at your front door, if he be not already admitted, one whose locks are wet with the dews of the night, who would take your children into his arms, and would throw upon your nursery, and your sleeping apartments, and your drawing-room, and your entire house a blessing, that will make you rich while you live, and be an inheritance to your children after you have done the last day's work for their support, and made for them the last prayer. It is the illustrious one who said to the man of my text, "Return to thine own house, and show how great things God hath done unto thee." Now, in the first place, we want religion in our domestic duties.

Every housekeeper needs great grace. If Martha had had more religion she would not have rushed with such bad temper to scold Mary in the presence of Christ. It is no small thing to keep order, and secure cleanliness, and mend breakages, and achieve economy, and control all the affair of the household advantageously. Expenses will run up, store bills will come in twice as large as you think they ought to be, furniture will wear out, carpets will unravel, and the martyrs of the fire are very few in comparison with the martyrs of housekeeping. Yet there are hundreds of people in this church this morning who in their homes are managing all these affairs with a composure, an adroitness, an ingenuity, and a faithfulness which they never could have reached but for the grace of our practical Christianity. The exasperations which wear out others have been to you spiritual development and santification. Employments which seemed to relate only to an hour have on them all the grandeurs of eternal history.

You need the religion of Christ in the discipline of your children. The rod which in other homes may be the first means used, in yours will be the last. There will be no harsh epithets—"you knave, you villain, you scoundrel, I'll thrash the life out of you, you are the worst child I ever knew." All that kind of chastisement makes thieves, pickpockets, murderers and the outlaws of society. That parent who in anger strikes his child across the head, deserves the penitentiary. And yet this work of discipline must be attended to. God's grace can direct us. Alas for those who come to the work with fierce passion and recklessness of consequences. Between severity and laxativeness there is no choice. Both ruinous and both destructive. But there is a healthful medium which the grace of God will show to us.

Then we need the religion of Christ to help us in setting a good example. Cowper said of the oak: "Time was when settled on thy leaf a fly could shake thee to the root. Time has been when tempest could not." In other words, your children are very impressible just now. They are alert; they are gathering impressions you have no idea of. Have you not been surprised sometimes, months or years after some conversation, which you supposed was too profound or intricate for them to understand—some question of the child demonstrated the fact that he knew all about it?

Your children are apt to think that what you do is right. They have no ideal of truth or righteousness but yourself. Things which you do knowing at the time to be wrong, they take to be right. They reason this way: "Father always does right. Father did this. Therefore, this is right." That is good logic, but bad premises. No one ever gets over having had a bad example set him. Your conduct more than your teaching makes impression. Your laugh, your frown, your dress, your walk, your greetings, your goodbys, your comings, your goings, your habits at the table, the tones of your voice, are making an impression which will last a million years after you are dead, and the sun will be extinguished, and the mountains will crumble, and the world will die, and eternity will roll on in perpetual cycles, but there will be no diminution of the force of your conduct upon the young eyes that saw it or the young ears that heard it.

Now I would not have by this the idea given to you that you must be in cold reserve in the presence of your children. You are not emperor; you are companion with them. As far as you can, you must walk with them, skate with them, fly kite with them, play ball with them, show them you are interested in all that interests them. Spensippus, the nephew and successor of Plato in the academy, had pictures of joy and gladness hung all around the school-room. You must not give your children the impression that when they come to you they are playful ripples striking against a rock. You must have them understand that you were a boy once yourself, that you know a boy's hilarities, a boy's temptations, a boy's ambition—yea, that you are a boy yet. You may deceive them and try to give them the idea that you are some distant supernatural effulgence and you may shove them off by your rigorous behavior, but the time will come when they will find out the deception and they will have for you utter contempt.

Aristotle said that a boy should begin to study at 17 years of age; before that his time should be given to recreation. I can not adopt that theory. But this suggests a truth in the right direction. Childhood is too brief, and we have not enough sympathy with its sportfulness. We want divine grace to help us in the adjustment of all these matters.

Besides that, how are your children ever to become Christians if you yourself are not a Christian? I have noticed that however worldly and sinful parents may be, they want their children good. When young people have presented themselves for admission into our membership I have said to them, "Are your father and mother willing you shall come?" and they have said, "Oh! yes; they are delighted to have us come; they have not been in church for ten or fifteen years, but they will be here next Sabbath to see me baptized." I have noticed that parents, however worldly, want their children good.

So it was demonstrated in a police court in Canada, where a mother, her little child in her arms—sat by a table on which her own handcuffs lay, and the little babe took up the handcuffs and played with them, and had great glee. She knew not the sorrow of the hour. And then when the mother was sent to prison, the mother cried out, "Oh! God, let not this babe go into the jail. Is there not some mother here who will take this child? It is good enough for heaven. It is pure. I am bad. I am wicked. Is there not some one who will take this child? I can not have it tainted with the prison." Then a brazen creature rushed up and said, "Yes, I'll take the child." "No, no," said the mother, "not you, not you. Is there not some good mother here who will take this child?" And then when the officer of the law in mercy and pity took the child to carry it away to find a home for it, the mother kissed it lovingly good-by, and said, "Good-by, my darling; it is better you should never see me again."

However worldly and sinful people are, they want their children good. How are you going to have them good? Buy them a few good books? Teach them a few excellent catechisms? Bring them to church? That is all very well, but of little final result unless you do it with the grace of God in your heart. Do you not realize that your children are started for eternity? Are they on the right road? Those little forms that are now so bright and beautiful, when they have scattered in the dust there will be an immortal spirit living on in a mighty theater of action, and your faithfulness or your neglect now is deciding that destiny.

There is contention already among ministering spirits of salvation and fallen angels as to who shall have the mastery of that immortal spirit. Your children are soon going out in the world. The temptations of life will rush upon them. The most rigid resolution will bend in the blast of evil. What will be the result? It will require all the restraints of the gospel, all the strength of a father's prayer, all the influence of a Christian mother's example, to keep them.

You say it is too early to bring them. Too early to bring them to God? Do you know how early children were taken to the ancient Passover? The rule was just as soon as they could take hold of the father's hand and walk up Mount Moriah they should be taken to the Passover. Your children are not too young to come to God. While you sit here and think of them perhaps their forms now so bright and beautiful vanish from you, and their disembodied spirit rises, and you see it after the life of virtue or crime is past and the judgment is gone and eternity is here.

A Christian minister said that in the first year of his pastorate he tried to persuade a young mechanic of the importance of family worship. Some time passed, and the mechanic came to the pastor's study and said: "Do you remember that girl? That was my own child; she died this morning very suddenly; she has gone to God, I have no doubt, but if so, she has told him what I tell you now; that child never heard a prayer in her father's house—never heard a prayer from her father's lips. Oh! if I only had her back again one day to do my duty!" It will be a tremendous thing at the last day if some one shall say of us, "I never heard my father pray; I never heard my mother pray."

Again I remark, we want religion in all our home sorrows. There are ten thousand questions that come up in the best regulated household that must be settled. Perhaps the father has one favorite in the family, the mother another favorite in the family, and there are many questions that need delicate treatment.

Tyranny and arbitrary decision have no place in a household. If the parents love God, there will be a spirit of self-sacrifice, and a spirit of forgiveness, and a kindness which will throw its charm over the entire household. Christ will come into that household and will say, "Husbands, love your wives and be not bitter against them; wives, see that you reverence your husbands; children, obey your parents in the Lord; servants, be obedient to your masters," and the family will be like a garden on a summer morning—the grass-plot, and the flowers, and the vines, and the arch of honeysuckle standing in the sunlight glittering with dew.

But then there will be sorrows that will come to the household. There are but few families that escape the stroke of financial misfortune. Financial misfortune comes to a house where there is no religion. They kick against divine allotments; they curse God for the incoming calamity, they withdraw from the world because they can not hold as high a position in society as they once did, and they fret, and they scowl, and they sorrow, and they die. During the past few years there have been tens of thousands of men destroyed by their financial distresses.

When a queen died, her three sons brought an offering to the grave. One son brought gold, another brought silver, but the third son came and stood over the grave and opened one of his veins and let the blood drop upon his mother's tomb, and all who saw it said it was the greatest demonstration of affection. My friends, what is the grandest gift we can bring to the sepulchers of a Christian ancestry? It is a life all consecrated to the God who made us and the Christ who redeemed us. I can not but believe that there are hundreds of parents in this house who have resolved to do their whole duty, and that at this moment they are passing into a better life; and having seen the grace of the gospel in this place to-day, you are now fully ready to return to your own house, and show what great things God has done unto you.

Though parents may in covenant be,
And have their heaven in view;
They are not happy till they see
Their children happy too.

May the Lord God of Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, the God of our fathers be our God and the God of our children forever.

Nothing Lost by Being Polite.

A jaguar in one's path would seem to be as undesirable a guest as a lion, and it is hard to know how to treat it.

A story is told of a South American Indian finding himself suddenly confronted with a fine specimen of a jaguar that stood right in his way only a few feet ahead. There was little time to think over the situation, and it would probably have been certain death to turn and flee.

With a happy notion, therefore, the man advanced, and, taking off his big broad-brimmed hat, made the animal a low bow and bade it "Good morning."

The jaguar was so overcome by this unusual display of courtesy that it turned round and walked slowly away. Politeness costs nothing; indeed, if this story be true, it may save a life.

Hard to Distinguish.

Auntie—Well, did Uncle George tell you an interesting story.

Little Niece, from Boston—Yes, auntie, it was full of delightful wonders; but some visitors called and I hadn't time to inquire whether it was a fairy tale or a theosophical hypothesis.

A Handsome Monastery.

The old Basque convent in which Loyola was raised is still one of the handsomest monasteries, as regards the interior decorations, in Europe. It is beautifully adorned, the rafters and ceilings being covered with thick goldleaf.

"Nothing."

"How long has he been unemployed?"

"H'm, I—er—don't know Benkins' exact age."

MRS. IDA CASLER.

Her Advice to Over-Ambitious Women.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Mrs. Ida Casler, of 126 Olive Street, Syracuse, N.Y., believes that there is no amount of money large enough to equal a good, sound, healthy constitution.

Here is a history of her case:—

She was so ill with falling of the womb and leucorrhœa that she could not stand. She was attended by several doctors without benefit, and was completely discouraged.

One evening she heard what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women, and decided to try it, together with Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and it is well she did, for she says:—

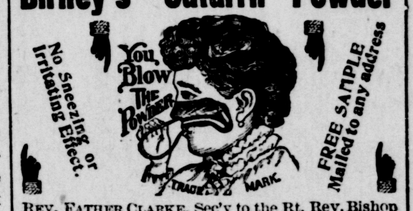

"I am now well and strong. I am not troubled with either trouble, and all owing to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"If more women would use the Compound there would be less suffering in the world. Many women bring on their troubles by over-work. Remember good health will outbid riches every time."

Catarrh AND COLD IN THE HEAD

relieved instantly by one application of

Birney's Catarrh Powder

REV. FATHER CLARKE, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes;

GENTLEMEN:—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples are quite enthusiastic over it. The good sisters speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the Hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy to help others who are suffering.

M. E. FERGUSON, Custodian U. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes:

GENTLEMEN:—Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrhal Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 18 inches from my ear. I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve.

BRIEF BITS BY WIRE.

One Man Speaks for Breckinridge.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 16.—The chances for Col. Breckinridge's renomination seem to be somewhat against him. W. T. Woodard, the well known horse salesman, is a strong advocate of Col. Breckinridge and says: "Breckinridge should by all means be returned to Congress, and I think he will be. The combination of the northern press to wipe out Kentucky's reputation will in my opinion add many a vote for him."

Wolcott's Scheme Not Feasible.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Senator Wolcott's scheme of coining Mexican dollars in the United States mints for the Asiatic trade is not likely to receive the approval of the Mexican government. Ex-Consul-General Warner P. Sutton, who is familar with Mexican laws and with Mexican coinage, is authority for this statement.

Boatner Feels Satisfied.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Judge Boatner, speaking of the investigation of the Jenkins strike decision by the committee, which returned last night, says that he thinks it got to the bottom of matters. "It was very satisfactory," he added. "Our report will, we hope, be ready to submit to the full committee at its regular meeting next Friday."

Ed Morrell is Guilty.

FRESNO, Cal., April 16.—Ed Morrell, who aided Chris Evans to escape from jail here and who has been on trial for the last two days for robbing City Marshall Morgan of his pistol immediately after his escape, has been found guilty. He will be sentenced Monday.

Ocean Steamer Disabled.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., April 16.—A big ocean steamship was sighted off Manomet by the crew of the life-saving station there early this morning. It was so rough that they could not go out and they signaled her to keep off. She was drifting toward Sandwich and appeared to be disabled. A tug was sent out to render her assistance.
